CLASSIC TRACTOR CONTEST PART OF 2007 MISSOURI LIVESTOCK SYMPOSIUM, ENTRIES DUE NOVEMBER 2

KTVO and the Missouri Livestock Symposium have teamed up to sponsor a Classic Tractor Contest as part of this year's Symposium. The Missouri Livestock Symposium will be held November 30 and December 1 in Kirksville, Missouri.

Max Armstrong of RFD-TV's "This Week in Agribusiness" will be a featured speaker Friday night at the Symposium. He will also be involved in the selections of the winning entrants and will feature the winner on his segment of Max's Tractor Shed.

If you or someone you know has a classic tractor and would like to enter it in the contest here is the information you will need to know: entries are due by 5 pm on November 2, 2007 and must be submitted to Missouri Livestock Symposium, ATT: Classic Tractor Contest, 503 E. Northtown Rd., Kirksville, MO 63501. Entries must be made on an official entry blank. Entry blanks and contest rules are available online at <http://www.missourilivestock.com>, at the Adair County Extension office in Kirksville at 503 E. Northtown Rd., or at the KTVO stations in Kirksville or Ottumwa, Iowa.

Ten semi-finalists will be chosen from all entries submitted by the November 2 deadline. The 5 top finalists will be chosen from the 10 semi-finalists by voting on line at <http://www.ktvo.com>. Voting will be from November 12 through November 19. KTVO will feature the semi-finalists on their newscasts during this time frame so be sure to watch for this segment of the news.

The winner will be selected at the Missouri Livestock Symposium on Friday, November 30 by Max Armstrong with the winner being announced Friday evening. More than one tractor may be entered per person or entity.
